Executive Summary

This report presents the outcomes and achievements of Digital Al-Jazari for Artificial Intelligence and Research Innovation during 2025, with a brief overview of 2023 and 2024 to illustrate the organization's growth trajectory. The year 2025 marked a major institutional transition, including the official adoption of the new name, alongside an expanded portfolio of knowledge initiatives and strengthened tracks in scientific publishing, digital education, and community engagement.

Key Milestones in 2025

- Official adoption of the organization's new name and the update of government records in Jordan.
- Obtaining ISSN numbers for the print and online editions of two journals: Digital Integration Era and Digital Life & Technology, and launching/strengthening their online presence.
- Delivering a digital training and empowerment program targeting 23 Jordanian women, followed by graduation in May.
- Implementing Ramadan social support initiatives benefiting 22 children and 19 women (including 5 women with disabilities).
- Organizing recognition events for athletically gifted children (Irbid/Amman) and recognizing a group of distinguished Jordanian women at the end of the year.
- Opening regional and international cooperation pathways through engagements with UN-affiliated entities, hosting delegations, and conducting multiple field visits (Aqaba, Jerash, Ma'an).

Brief Overview of 2023

In 2023, the organization focused on children's and women's issues within a humanitarian framework, implementing 26 activities across multiple areas in Jordan. Programs targeted marginalized women through training, skills development, and linking beneficiaries to labor market opportunities; the report documented skills development for 13 women and employment support (11 in Jordan and two in Tunisia and Algeria). The organization also supported 39 children through care and education initiatives and capacity-building activities (20 females, 19 males). In addition, training content expanded on the "Mahara wa Shahada" platform to approximately 200 courses.

Brief Overview of 2024

In 2024, the organization continued its work on women and children while expanding its focus to climate and the environment. A total of 31 activities were implemented, including 15 in-person lectures/seminars, 6 online webinars, and 10 practical volunteering activities in agriculture and environmental fields. Environmental initiatives included planting/donating 2,950 olive trees and supporting three beekeepers to grow their businesses. The "Mahara wa Shahada" platform content increased to around 250 courses, and the organization provided free certificates to more than one thousand trainees from underserved groups.

Detailed Report for 2025

Introduction

The year 2025 was a pivotal year in the journey of Digital Al-Jazari. It witnessed substantial changes in content, working methods, and future directions, in line with the accelerated technological shifts and the growing adoption of artificial intelligence applications. This prompted the organization to develop an approach that combines traditional humanitarian work with the responsible use of technology to serve less-advantaged groups.

- Two meetings on 8 and 13 February 2025 to discuss the institutional name change and agree on its importance.
- Workshop on 15 February 2025 on best methods for agricultural investment in the northern and northeastern Jordanian Badia, with specialists.
- Workshop on 19 February 2025 as a continuation of the previous session, confirming land suitability for crops and fruit trees (such as apricot, peach, and olive) and the use of cactus as a protective fence.
- Workshop on 23 February 2025 on AI developments and community use cases, and on leveraging AI to serve disadvantaged groups.

March

- Expanded meeting on 7 March 2025 to discuss the new name and include the scientist Al-Jazari in the official naming.

- Lecture on 11 March 2025 in cooperation with the “Ta‘allam wa A‘lam” Center on using AI in education.
- Ramadan evening on 20 March 2025 in cooperation with Al-Rahma Association, providing support to 22 children (15 girls and 7 boys).
- Ramadan evening on 28 March 2025 in Al-Rabieh (Amman), distributing gifts to 19 women in need (including 5 women with disabilities).
- A decisive meeting on 27 March 2025 to adopt the name: “Digital Al-Jazari for Artificial Intelligence and Research Innovation”.

April

- Sports event on 19 April 2025 at Irbid Hall to recognize 7 gifted child athletes (3 football, 2 basketball, 2 esports).
- Launch of training for 23 Jordanian women on 23 April 2025 on digital tools and self-protection in the digital age.

May

- Official update of the organization's name in Jordanian government records on 5 May 2025 to become: "Digital Al-Jazari for Artificial Intelligence and Research Innovation".
- Sponsoring the graduation of women (23 women) on 23 May 2025 after completing the digital skills program.
- Event on 29 May 2025 at the Jordanian Writers Association to publicly announce the official name change.
- Friendly gathering on 30 May 2025 to celebrate the achievement and agree on activities for the remainder of the year.

June

- Participation of female team members in online meetings with UN organizations during the first week of June to build capacity and gain experience.
- Hosting a delegation from Algeria from 15-17 June 2025 and discussing potential avenues for future cooperation.

Partnerships and Collaboration

The organization's work in 2025 was supported by cooperation with civil, educational, and cultural institutions, alongside engagement with UN-affiliated entities in capacity building and networking. The report highlights the following partners and entities:

- Kasdi Merbah University and the Algerian Ministry of Culture (Algeria conference - January).
- "Ta'allam wa A'lam" Center (lectures/seminars and capacity building).
- Al-Rahma Association (Ramadan initiatives).
- Jordanian Writers Association (events, name announcement, and recognition ceremony).
- UN-affiliated entities (online meetings and networking - June/November).

Lessons Learned and Priorities for 2026 (Proposed)

- Strengthen documentation: adopt standardized templates for attendance lists, impact evaluation, and archiving photos and links in organized folders.
- Issue a quarterly dashboard to facilitate monitoring and follow-up.
- Continue announced field studies (soil in Ma'an and marine life in Aqaba) and link them to a published research plan.
- Develop digital training programs for women and youth, including advanced modules in digital safety and artificial intelligence.
- Strengthen the scientific publishing track through clear editorial procedures and quality governance.
